Boards of Temuair

by Nia Lee

Hello, friends! Welcome to the beautiful world of Temuair! Perhaps you are just waking from a life of mundanity, or maybe you've been here for many cycles. However long you've shared this dream with me, it's never not worth it to take a look around you and admire the majesty! There are many grand things which may draw our focus. From the picturesque view of Mount Giragan in the valley of Suomi, to the foreboding castles on the Isle of Man. But there are wonders to be found at every scale! From the pages of a book in the library to the grease at the edge of Aricin's impressive moustache. Today, though, I'm here to talk about perhaps the most beautiful landmarks that Temuair has to offer: BOARDS!

(Even Uistean agrees! Boards are HOT!)

What is it about boards that make them so special? Surely, their ubiquity depreciates their marvelousness?

Wrong!

Boards are special for many reasons. They can be made from a variety of materials like wood, metal, or different types of stone. Though at a surface level, many boards seem to be the same as any other, the reality is that each board has its own character! Some boards have worn faces from frequent use, while others are pristine and smooth. Some boards have finely crafted details in their etching, while others are simply designed. The pattern of holes in each wooden board is totally unique from every other board because of the placement of tacked postings! But most of all, boards are special because of what we place upon them. From poetry on the church boards, to the rules and regulations of the various nations of Temuair. You can find boards in Shrines. In caves and swamps. In castles and coliseums. On farms and behind lamp posts. Boards are often overlooked, but there's a good chance that somewhere, somehow...a board has impacted your life in ways you never imagined!

This work is all about telling you everything you ever wanted to know about the boards in Temuair. Particularly if you've ever wondered where a board is at and/or what is posted on it. Welcome home! You're in the right place, friend!

So what types of boards can one find around Temuair?

There are primarily six types:

Angled Stone
Slab Board

Classic Stone
Board

Crossroads
Wooden Board

Classic Wooden
Board

Ancient Relief
Board

What is a memorial monument besides simply a more specialized board?

Nia Says:

Did you know there are 145
public boards in Temuair?

a good board

At the start of the forest of Shinewood
There's some boards that I consider good.

Oren

If you're looking for boards around Oren,
Your journey will probably be borin',
Believe it or not,
For as large of a spot,
There's none here by which you can get drawn in.

Two sadly boardless villages
shakes her head

Nobis

Nobis, I had such high hopes for,
A board-having village at its core.
In spite of its vibe,
There's none you can find,
But boy, do I wish there were more.

-Nia Lee's Board Book of Limericks

Tagor

The handful of boards that are Tagor's,
May be less interesting than yours.
Many are broken,
Or very soft-spoken,
Except for the one near the jail doors.

Final Thoughts

And there you have it! These are the 145 amazing boards that I have found in publicly accessible areas throughout Temuair. I have not included boards of Medenia in this work as I have not spent time there, although I would like to give a shoutout to the boards in the Mileth Fair as well as the boards in publicly-inaccessible areas such as the Mileth and Rucesion commons. Because these are areas that are not universally accessible at all times, I have chosen to leave them out of my records, though I highly recommend checking them out if you can! Every board is beautiful, and a secret sign is all the more alluring.

I would like to thank everyone who helped me by finding boards that I missed, and providing feedback for this work. Dylanlan, Amagakure, Absobel, Kedian, and others.

Toodles~!
